

SUZUKI LAUNCHES THE ALL-NEW CELERIO X IN SRI LANKA

Associated Motorways (Private) Limited (AMW), the sole distributor of brand new Suzuki passenger vehicles in Sri Lanka, has recently introduced the sporty, bold, muscular and trendy Suzuki Celerio X to the existing line-up of the ever-popular Suzuki Celerio range of upmarket hatchbacks.

Like most hatch-to-cross conversions, the Celerio X gets a bucket-load of cladding on the side and the rear. The rear bumper gets a faux skid plate finished in silver. The gloss black highlights on the grille and under the headlamps give it some distinction while roof rails add to the ‘SUV’ like silhouette.

The interiors are an all-black affair, with white accents providing some contrast. The black seats get orange highlights which goes well with the exterior paint shade. The tall list of standard options include a double DIN audio system with steering-mounted controls, all four power windows and air-conditioning. On the safety front, the Celerio X is armed with driver and front passenger airbags and anti-lock brake system (ABS). The Suzuki Celerio X is a 5-speed automated manual transmission (AMT) powered by the frugal and gutsy K-Next series 1.0-litre, three-cylinder, and petrol engine that powers the standard Celerio. AMW focuses on importing the higher spec version of this model, the Celerio X-ZXI (O), which can be ordered with alloy wheels and fog lamps, on top of an endless list of standard options.

Bookings are now open for the 05 vibrant colors and customers have the opportunity of effortlessly trade-in their current vehicles with the new Suzuki Celerio X-ZXI (O), through Automall, AMW’s certified pre-owned vehicle division.
